without regard to faction, were anxious to wind up the work of the convention as quickly as possible, and voted down motion. State Treasurer.

Nominations for state treasurer were then declared in order, Brooke yielded to Marshall, Mr. Lou Newman presented the name of D. A. Dorsey, of Marshall, Mr. W. M. Brannon, of Lewis, named a man-from the First congressional district which had not been honored by the convention; his candidate was Hon. Andrew Edmiston, of Westen, Mr. Frank Martin, of Fairmont, nominated William P. Burt, of Marion, W. M. Welch, of Mineral, named the present state treasurer, Captain J. M. Howan, of Manroe, which was seconded by A. S. Johnson, of Monroe, Mr. Penalleton seconded Dorsey's nomination.

was seconded by A. S. Johnson, of Monroe, Mr. Penalleton seconded Dorsey's nomination.

Mr. Kendall, of Wirst, demanded recognition for the Little Kanawha valley. Wirst county 'hadn't raised hell' because she was disappointed in the last convention, but now wanted to behonered, and presented the name of James W. Tucker, of Wood, secured Tucker's nomination, claiming that he was "a lineal descendent of 'Old Dan Tucker," Mr. Sperry, of Harrison, seconded Edmiston's nomination.

Henry Clay Ragland seconded for Rowan and D. H. Leonard, of Wood, seconded Tucker's nomination. Charles Edgar Hogg, of Mason, also spoke for Tucker and Rowan was seconded again by Cabell.

Edgar Horg, of Mason, also spoke for Tucker and Rowan was seconded again by Cabell.

Before the roll call for the vote began there was an attempt to stampede the convention for Tucker. It started with load cries of "Tucker," Trucker," from the fler of countles embraced in the Little Kanawha valley, the band struck up "Old Dan Tucker," and wild cheering was kept up for nearly five minutes. The standards of several counties were snatched from their moorings and assembled about the standard of Wirt. The standard didn't occur, but the demonstration had an effect on the vote. Tucker was running as a "young man's candidate" and the younger blood of the convention was undoubtedly for him. The ballot resulted: Rowan 326; Tucker 228; Dorsey 103; Edmiston 128. There being no choice, another ballot was ordered.

Ethaiston Withdraws.

Lewis county withdrew Edmiston's

Lewis county withdrew Edmisson's name, and most of his strength went name, and most of his strength went to Tucker. As the bailot proceeded it looked as if the state house ring candidate would be defeated. Governor MacCorkle and the Chiltons were busy hustling their man Royan. There were two votes in the Kanawha county delegation, who could not be whipped into line and the bosses determined to apply the mint rule on the third ballot if possible. The second ballot showed the anti-ring candidate. Tucker, within only twenty-five of the nomination. Dorsey's would have nominated him with plenty to spare. The result of this ballot was, Rowan 353; Tucker 407; Dorsey St.

Before the announcement, Nicholas, county desired to change her vote. The chair ruled that a resolution adopted by the convention prohibited a change of a vote pending roll call. Colonel St. Clair declared he had beard of no such resolution and it was read to him. He made a shrewd speech, trying to show that the resolution did not apply after the roll call was completed, but the chair ruled against him.

"The third ballot proceeded amid great confusion and accitement. All the delegates were on their feet and so great was the disorder the chair alimost wore out his gavel. Oho county plunked her vote solid for Rowan and the county was permitted to correct it.

The correction gave Rowan thirtyseven and Tucker fifteen. Under the ruling of the chair a county could correct its vote if challenged, but could not change counties wanting to change caught on and began "correcting" their votes, first on one side and then on the votes, first on one side and then on the other. A delegate rushed forward and demanded that the chair stop the proceeding, as the new votes were not bona fide changes.

Then the convention became involved in a wrangle, in which the bitterest feeling was engendered. Lincoln county desired to explain that a majority of her delegates were absent during roll call and the vote was incorrectly reported. This created a storm, during which Hon, R. F. Kidd went upon the stage and made a violent speech, in which he said that Mr. Tucker was being cheated out of a nomination fairly which he said that Mr. Tucker was being cheated out of a nonination fairly won, and he told the convention that this attempt to defraud 500 Democrats out of their rights never would be submitted to.

There were angry denunciations of this speech and the prospects for a free for all fight were very good. General St. Clair, also from the stage, started to speak for the ring side, and a delegate shouted: "Rule him down."

St. Clatr Aroused.

"You can't pull me down,d—n you, shouted the general. By God, you don't dare to come up here and try it."
There was great excitement, in which the chairman plead for a fair hearing for all sides. St. Chair held in his speech that the resolution adopted did not preclude the convention from permitting absentees from after recording their votes. Hon. D. II. Loop and differed with him and contended mitting assences to the cording their votes. Hon, D. H. Leon and differed with him and contended that it was the business of the absen-cording their votes. Hon. D. H. Leon and differed with him and contended that it was the business of the absentees to be in their places.

The chair ruled that Nicholas could not correct her vote under the circumstances and Goneral St. Clair appealed and demanded a roll call. There was great excitement, in the midst of which a delegate from Lincoln county mounted his chair and averted what was almost certain to end in the distribution of the convention by letting the cut out of the hag by frankly confessing that Lincoln's "correction" was not a correction at all, but merely a change, which under the rules, could not be made.

General St. Clair looked disgusted and withdrew his appeal, the excitement subsided and the result of the ballot was announced as follows:

Tucker for Teranuer.

Tucker for Treasurer.

was too much moved to make a speech and after briefly thanking the delegates he completely broke down.

Before nominations were resumed General St. Clair moved to suspend the rub forbidding counties to change their votes and spoke in its favor.

"Cam" Sommers, still smarting under his defeat for auditor, spoke in reply. He held that the rule was understood by the convention and was falt Under it the Democrats who were for fairness had succeeded in breaking the slate of the Charleston ring of "practical politicians" and nominating the spoular choice of the convention for treasurer.

Colonel "Joe" Chilton spoke for the motion, claiming that under the rule, Ohlo county had been permitted to "correct" her vate while Lincoln county had not. It was explained that Ohlo county's vote had been challenged in the regular way and was entitled to make a correction.

The motion, to suspend the rule was Mineral county named Wilson L. Foulk, of that county, P. F. Snyder, of Doddridge, placed the name of Robert A. Armstrong, of Upshur county, who was closered by the university men especially.

Kanawha county seconded Lewis' nomination.

Mercer county named John D. Sweeney, of Mercer, and Sam V. Woods, of Barbour, seconded Armstrong's nomination. There were several other nomination, There were several other nominating speeches and the roll was called of the ballot.

The progress of the ballot showed at

The progress of the ballot showed at The progress of the ballot showed at the start that the fight was between Lewis and Armstrong, the friends of the university sticking close to Armstrong. In all-the nominating speeches it had been urged that a graduate of the highest institution of learning in the state should be placed at the head of the educational department.

Pentures of the Ballot.

The lines, while not closely drawn, were in evidence. The ballot was not at-tended by the wild scenes of disorder were in evidence. The ballot was not attended by the wild scenes of disorder which characterized the balloting for the three previous nominees, and for the three previous nominees, and for the first time since the argregation opened up proceedings on Tuesday, the convention seemed to bear some resemblance to a deliberative body. There was no cheering when votes were announced, no attempts at a stampede and the delegates, those of them who were not quenching their thirst at the bar, sat quietly in their seats. This means that there was a comparatively small attendance in the convention hall. Some delegates seemed not to take any interest whatever in the matter of who should be at the lead of the most important department of the state government, affecting the future progress and advancement of the intelligence and civilization of the state, With four candidates in the field the proceeding was remarkably listless. This was in notable contrast to the hyterest manifested, and the machine methods employed by the bosses with purely political honors at stake. Such is politics.

Oue Exception.

There was one bare exception to the rule of listlessness. It was when Mercer county withdrew Sweeney's name oward the end of the ballot and asked

Foulk, 193

Fourk, 193.
Sweeney, 77%.
Another ballot was ordered, and before the roll call was begur Sweeney's name was formally withdrawn. There was a livening up of the convention on this ballot owing to the element of uncertainty caused by Sweeney's withdrawat and the closeness of the voc on the first ballot between Swee, ey and Foulk.

Lewis received a bare majority of nine, but that was enough to nominine, but that was enough to nominine.

Lewis received a bare mage of the fine, but that was enough to nominate him and the Kanawha crowd diff some cheering, wisle the Armstrong men sat silent. The state house combine were glad to know that this part of the slate had been saved and were the state had been saved and were the state had been saved and were of he slate had been saved and were congratulating each other on the re-sult. The second ballot was: Lewis, 434, Armstrong, 304, Foulk, 107. Lewis was declared the nominee and it was made unanimous. The Attorney General.

Nominations for attorney-general were then in order and Hon. John A. were then in order and Hon, John A. Howard placed Hon, Thomas S. Riley's name before the convention for re-non-ination in a speech in which he declared it would be 'bad politics' to refuse Mr. Riley a second term.

W. E. R. Byrne, of Braxton county, was placed in nomination by a Braxton delegate. W. L. Taylor, of McDowell, seconded Riley's nomination. Gilner seconded Byrne's name as did class Greenbrier and Barbour.

Greenbrier and Barbour.

Hop Woods made the speech for Barbour and called attention to the fact that for twelve years the attented when the fact that for twelve years the attented when the gold bugs" of the Democracy. He wanted the law department of the state transferred from Wheeling to "the mountain county of Bruxton." Other Byrne speeches were in the same line.

General St. Clair spoke for Riley, the machine candidate, and resented the mitmation that Ohlo county Democratis were not as good Democrats as anybody.

There was considerable interest in the ballot, but as it proceeded it was There was considerable interest in the ballot, but as it proceeded it was evident that the "mountain counties" were not in it, and before the result of the ballot was amounced. Mr. Hyrne in a witty and graceful speech moved that Mr. Riley be nominated by acclamation. Then the band played "Wearing of the Green" and the convention gave three cheers for Riley, who was the only nominee thus far who had been so benored. Mr. Riley came forward and made a good speech of acceptance. The ballot resulted:

Supreme Court Judgs.

Nominations for judge of the su-preme court came next. Hon. S. L. preme court came next. Hon. S. L. Flournoy placed in nomination Hon. Samuel Green, of Kanawha county. Mr. Howard of Mason county, placed in nomination James H. Couch, of Kanawha. Col. Joe Chiliton also named a Kanawha county man, Major Thomas L. Broun. W. L. Taylor, of McDowell, nominated David E. Johnson, of Grenbrier county, the permanent chairman of the convention, who had presided with so much grace and dignity and firmness. It was an attempt to stampede the convention for the chairman, and Mr. Sweeney, of Mercer county, followed it up with a speech calculated to invoke enthusiasm, but the stampede didn't occur at that time. with a spectrust the stampers of thusiasm, but the stampers of that thus, at that thus, John J. After listening to a half dozen other seconding speeches, the convention grew Tucker 439; Rowan 468.

The Tucker men went wild and Mi they were wasting time and delaying business.

General St. Clair was one of the speakers who was greeted by continual howls. One or two young men near the Barbour delegation kept shouting to him to sit, dawn. St. Clair turned to him and said: "Til paste your law for you directly."

The young man subsided, but the disorder continued until the chaft threatened to clear the hall of everybody but delegates. When St. Clair had finished his speech he stypped dawn from the stage and approached the Barbour delegation, where sat the two or three men, who did not belong to the delegation, but who had been particularly offensive to him, and began to talk excitedly and threaten them.

Instantly the whole convention become excited and there was a grand rush to the selat of war. The delegates attacked showed fight and General St. Clair was right at home. They would Clair was right at rome. They would have been into it in a moment, and members of the Kanawha delegation were "egging" St. Clair on, but Colonel Me-Graw, John D.Alderson and others rushied between the men and succeeded in quieting St. Clair and getting him away. Had a blow been struck there is no telling where it would have ended, as the excitement was intense.

The ballot for supreme judge was taken almost immediately after comparative quiet was secured and resulted as follows:

Brown, 30.

Green, 160. Holt, 338. Couch, 58.

Johnson, 134,
Higginbotham, 196.
Mr. Chilton did something which he said had never been done before in the sistery of a Democratic convention and that was to withdraw the name of a Kanawha county candidate, He withdraw Brown's name. Mr. Crouch's name was also withdrawn, and the second ballot was taken. Holt profited by the withdrawals. There was a cheer when Ohio county cast her solid vote for Halt. Just afterward the name of fligginbothsm was withdrawn by Upfor 13tl. Just afterward the name of Fingainbothem was withdrawn by Up-shur and that'county's vote was cast for Holt. When the ballot was com-pleted Barbour asked permission to correct her vote, but was refused. The ballot was announced as follows:

Holt, 425, Green, 195, Johnson, 180, Higginbotham, 45, Holt Naminated.

Holt had exactly the necessary vote to nominate. There was immediately a doubt raised as to its correctness. Leaders for the other candidates demanded to inspect the tally sheet, and the figures were carefully gone over. The tallies kept by the reporters agreed with the jeseretary's report, but that did not satisfy the protesters. The secretary's column of the Holt vote was added over and over aguin. All the tally sheets agreed, however, and the nomination of Holt was made unanimous. This was another knock-out for the Kanawha combine. Colonel John T. McGraw being the chief engineer of the Holt movement.

Mr. Holt briefly thanked the convention for the honor.

Chairman W. E. Chilton then apa doubt raised as to its correctness

Chairman W. E. Chilton then ap-peared before the convention and after some difficulty in getting order, stated that the state committee had been in conference with the Populist committee and had found the latter were possessed of full power to deal with the Democratic committee hooking to a coalition of the silver forces in the matter of an electoral telect. Under a resolution adopted by the convention the Democratic committee had no power to act, and he asked the committee to suspend the rule and adopt a resolution conferring on the state committee full plenary power to treat with the Populists in the matter, promising that nothing should be done that would sucrifice any part of the Chicago ticket. Without debute the request was unanimously granted and at ten minutes to ten the convention adjourned after passing the following resolution offered by Thomas D. Houston, of Kanawha county.

The adjournment was hailed with satisfaction by everybody and especially by the officers of the convention, who were terribly overworked. Assistant Secretary Peyton was the tredest man in the lot. Mr. Charles H. Taney had been elected permanent secretary, but left Colonel Peyton to do all the work. Mr. Taney never skowed himself at the desk to do anything, but held on to the benome attached to the permanent secretaryship, while the colonel performed the labor with what assistance he received from others who had only been elected homorary secretaries.

Wheeling lost yesterday's game to errors by Hardesty and Whaling, All were fumbles of thrown balls, and Har-desty figured in Whaling's error. Baker pitched a better game than Carrick, which, is saying a great deal. But luck seemed to be with the "Farmers," The grounds were wet and slippery and when a Wheeling infielder stopped a ball and slipped, it cost a base, while the "Farmers" managed to slip and then field the runner out. lave been thrown off, is retained in the body, and as it cannot go any place else, more or less of it gets into the blood. That's constipation. It is such a wonderfully simple thing that people do not regard it seriously. They let it run on, let it grow worse, become chronic, and show itself all over the body in fifty ways before they consider it important. Constipation causes nine-tenths of all human ailments. Its first symptoms do not seem very serious, but even they are very disagreeable. A few of them are sour stomach, flattlenece, hearthirin, distress after eating, foul breath, coated tongue, dizziness, palpitation of the heart, sick and bilious headaches, general lassitude and debility. When any of these symptoms show themselves, you should immediately take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, according to directions. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, made on purpose to cure constipation. They do this perfectly and quickly, and they are the only preparation in the world that will do it. There are plenty of medicines that will give relief as long as you keep on taking them, but you cun't stop. They don't cure; they give merely temporary relief.
